EUOLOGY FOR THE LATE AGNES MUTHONI KORAMBU

BIRTH

The late Agnes Muthoni Korambu was born in the year 1924 in Ngenda village, Maragua Subcounty in Murang'a county by her parents the lates Kimani Nungari and Wangechi Kimani. Her siblings were the late Kamau, the late Nyakinyua, the late Kariega, the late Beth, Watiri, Mugure and Wanjira.

EDUCATION

The late Agnes started her primary school in Ngenda primary school and finished the education system by then referred to as common education in 1937.

WORK

The late Agnes after finishing school together with her siblings started the work of shepherding her father's herd of goats in the year 1938. Later she secured a job as a teacher for nursery school at Gakoigo.

MARRIAGE

The late Agnes met her beloved husband, the late Perminus Korambu in the year 1969 and they married. In the year 1972, they strengthened their marriage vows and they did a church wedding at PCEA Ngamwa. They were blessed with four children. Namely: Ann Njoki, Miliicent Njeri, the late Alice Wairimu and Simon Ngugi.

CHURCH

The late Agnes was baptized at PCEA Ngenda church in the year 1937. She has served as deaconess at PCEA Kaini church for more than 25years when Ngamwa was under the Larger Mihuti parish and when Ngamwa was outreach. She has also served as a leader in Womans guild council both at congregation level and outreach level. She has been a staunch member of East African Revival since 1972 until her demise.

SICKNESS

PICTORIAL OF THE LATE

AGNES MUTHONI KORAMBU

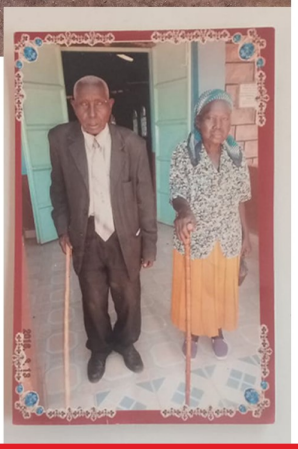

"In Grandma's Garden"

In Grandma's arms, the world was right,
A haven warm, a guiding light.
With every smile and soft embrace,
She filled our hearts with quiet grace.
She spoke in wisdom, calm and kind,
With stories etched in heart and mind.

Her laughter—gentle as the breeze—
Would dance like leaves on autumn trees.
She stitched our days with love so deep,
In whispered prayers before we'd sleep.
And in her touch, a healing art—
A steady hand, a tender heart.

The kitchen sang her favorite song,
'Jesu wee Unyendete'.
The scent of mukimo, the taste of tea—
Still bring her close again to me.
Though now the chair she sat is bare,
We feel her presence everywhere.

We miss that time you would be jovial,
When you wood sweetly led us in singing
'Nitugu gukugoca wee Jesu,
Jesu Gaturume ka Ngai..
Jesu! Thakame yaku... ...

May your soul

Riu ndi wa Jesu nginya tene

Riu nindikitie gwitikira
O uria Jesu anginjira
Enda kundama akindume
Enda kunjita thii gwake

"Lagacy of a Great Grandmother"

A century's light within her eyes,
She walked through time, so strong, so wise.
A quiet strength, a guiding flame,
And we, her kin, all bear her name.

She saw the world through storms and sun,
And yet her grace touched everyone.
With hands well-worn from love and care,
She built a life both rich and rare.
Her stories flowed like rivers wide,
Of days gone past, of hope and pride.
She held the roots of all our trees—
Our past, our present, memories.

A great-grandmother, tried and true,
Whose love stretched far, whose faith stood through.
She taught us how to live and give,
And showed us how the heart forgives.

Now though her voice is stilled by time,
Her spirit sings in every line—
In lullabies and kitchen smells,
In family tales that she would tell.

So rest, Great-Grandma, soft and sweet,

Appreciation

We, the family of the late Agnes Muthoni Korambu would like to pass a vote of thanks to the following;

1. Almighty God for giving us mum, cucu and maitu for a whole century. Also, for giving us this day and making everything a success.
2. The church from the parish minister for availing himself to preside this ceremony. Kaini church and especially Githanda district for being with the family throughout.
3. Our village mates- Women who have been with us taking care of hospitality and men who assisted us in preparing grave site where we will lay the late.
4. The family members who have been taking care of the late.
5. Everyone who supported us financially to ensure this ceremony succeed.
6. Everyone who found time to visit us during daily meetings and also in this burial.

May Almighty God Bless everyone as He rests our grandma in eternal peace.
